1.2.4 Scientific research and experimental development tax incentive

Available to: All Canadian businesses.	The Scientific Research and Experimental Development (SR&ED) Program is a federal tax incentive program, administered by CRA, that encourages Canadian businesses of all sizes, and in all sectors to conduct research and development (R&D) in Canada
Assistance level: Canadian-controlled private corporations can earn a refundable ITC of 35% on qualified expenditures. Other corporations and proprietorships can earn a non-refundable ITC of 15%.	The benefits of the SR&ED program are twofold. First, it lets you deduct SR&ED expenditures from your income for tax purposes. Second, it provides you with an SR&ED investment tax credit (ITC) that you can use to reduce your income tax payable if any. In some cases, the remaining ITC can be refunded.
https://www.canada.ca/en/revenue-agency/services/scientific-research-experimental-development-tax-incentive-program/overview.html

1.2.5 Small Business Deduction

Available to: Small businesses.	If you operate a Canadian-controlled private corporation, you may be eligible for an annual tax credit. This reduces the amount of tax that your business might otherwise have to pay.
Assistance level: Case dependant.	The amount of the credit is calculated when you complete your corporation's T2 income tax return. If you are not associated with any other corporations, the allowable business limit you can claim is $500,000. Other conditions apply. For more information, see chapter 4 of the Corporation Income Tax Guide.
